The returns on this investment account will be affected by the performance of the allocated assets including, but not limited to, the quality of assets (i.e. impairment) and movement of Effective Profit Rate (EPR) in relation to financing assets that are priced based on floating rate methods etc. The principal and returns are not guaranteed and an IAH may be exposed to the risk of no returns at all. 3.5 HFA Financing Portfolio by Geographical Location in Malaysia

A total of 36.6% of the total HFA Financing Portfolio originates from the Central region. This reflects the concentration of the HFA portfolio to developed areas such as the Klang Valley.

3.6 HFA Financing Portfolio by Remaining Maturity of Facilities

The majority of the HFA Financing Portfolio has a maturity of more than 15 years. This will ensure stability in the profit stream of the HFA portfolio which can then benefit the investment return expectations, especially for long-term IAH.

3.7 Asset Quality of HFA Financing Portfolio

The portfolio's low impaired financing ratio reflects strong asset quality.

4.0 ECONOMIC REVIEW AND PROSPECT

Malaysia recorded a 5.6% y-o-y expansion in 1Q2023 GDP growth, marking its best 1Q print since 2015, albeit slower than 7.1% in the previous quarter. However, a recent slew of economic indicators started showing signs of easing, in line with our in-house view amid higher base effect from the previous year and a challenging global environment due to higher-for-longer interest rates, persistent inflation and tighter credit conditions. Notably, the Industrial Production Index (IPI) turned negative for the first time since August 2021, falling 3.3% y-o-y in April 2023 (March 2023: 3.2%), with all sub-sectors recording declines. Though the pace of contraction softened, export growth has been in the negative territory for the third consecutive month in May 2023 - a reflection of weak external demand. In this respect, there is time for trade activity to recover if the global economy picks up and lifts sentiments, following the stabilising conditions of global financial markets. Meanwhile, domestic household consumption - the primary growth engine - slowed but remained robust, with double-digit growth recorded in retail sales in May 2023. At this juncture, we maintain our GDP growth forecast of 4.5% for 2023.

5.0 PROPERTY MARKET AND HFA PORTFOLIO REVIEW

According to the latest data published by the National Property Information Centre's (NAPIC), property market sector recorded 89,179 transactions worth RM42.31bil in Q12023, down by 7.1% in volume and 11.9% in value s compared to Q42022 (95,992;RM48.07bil). The residential segment remains the mainstay of the property market with 60.5% of total transaction. The residential sub-sector's market recorded 53,923 transactions worth RM20.87bil, down by 13.16% in volume and 11.68% in value as compared to Q42022 (62,099;RM23.63bil). By price range, demand continued to focus on properties worth RM300K and below, as indicated by almost 55.0% of the total residential transactions. There were 4,661 units residential launched in Q12023. Terraced houses dominated the new launches with 60.2% (2,810 units), followed by high-rise units at 14.5% (676 units) and cluster units at 7.8% (366 units). As at Q12023, the number of residential overhang dropped in term of volume and value. There were 26,872 units worth RM18.31bil, down by 3.15% in volume and 0.54% in value as compared to Q42022 (27,746;RM18.41bil). Selangor retained the highest number of overhang in the country with 18.58% (4,995 units). High-rise units dominated overhang with 61.5% (16,528 units). The Malaysian House Price Index (MHPI) in Q12023 stood at 210.1 points (RM453,365). The property market is expected to remain cautiously optimistic. Residential subsector particularly, will continue to linger on affordability, overhang issues, increase in the price of building materials and rising borrowing cost amidst uncertain global economy. The growth of tourism industry and industrial activities are expected to give some advantage to this sector.

Bank Islam Housing and Fixed Asset (HFA) portfolio stood at RM27.25billion in June 2023, increasing by 0.38% month-on-month (m-o-m) from RM27.15billion in the previous month. The Gross Impairment Ratio (GIR) decreased slightly to 1.05% in June 2023 from 1.07% in the preceding month. The figure is considered low compared to the purchase of residential property's industry level of 1.50% in May 2023 (January 2023: 1.37%). The HFA asset yield grew to 4.55% in June 2023 from 4.32% in March 2023 (previous quarter).
